OAK CITY BRIEFS.

——Raleigh needs Bath rooms.

——All quiet in the State House yesterday.

——Yesterday was the warmest day we have had.

——Magnolias are in bloom in the Capitol Square.

——Col. W. A. Turk has returned from Richmond.

——Streets lively yesterday and looked full of business.

——The Salisbury Street Baptist Sunday School go to Kittrells.

——Penny's pond was full of fishermen yesterday from the city.

——Our Capitol square at this season is the prettiest spot in the State

——If you wish a nice cool glass of ice cold soda water, step in at Simpson's.

——Nothing to do in the police court yesterday, so the Mayor went fishing.

——Work on the United States Court House and Post office seems to us to be going on rapidly.

——Mr. Theo. N. Ramsay, our temperance apostle is doing a grand work for the cause in Louisiana.

——Mr. F. G. Brown and bride of Richmond, Va., arrived in the city yesterday, and took rooms at the Yarboro.

——Sheriff Z. T. Long, of Richmond county, was in the city Thursday. He lodged two new boarders in the Republican Hotel.

——A new phase of the Tupper church inbroglio was presented to Justice Magnin at the Court House yesterday. Sent on for trial.

——Quite a number of cadets from Bingham's school and strangers are in the city by invitation to attend the Leap year ball which came off last night.

——A new Howe machine, with attachments unused, and direct from the factory can be purchased on reasonable terms by applying at the NEWS Office.

——The Leap year hop at Tucker Hall last night was a grand affair. The lateness of the hour when it closed prevents us giving a full notice, will do so to-morrow.

——The Centennial for ten cents: The daily and weekly illustrated papers full of the Centennial are received daily by Mr. James H. Enniss at the N. C. Book Store.

——Conspicuous among the young men who waited on the young ladies at the Methodist pic-nic Thursday, was Mr. Charles Burkhead, who represented the State National Bank.

——We heard late yesterday evening of a fight that occurred on Hargett street. We suppose the parties will be brought before Mayor Manly to-day, when we will get the full particulars.

——Mr. Needham Broughton and lady are now at the Centennial. Mr. Broughton is on his way to Cincinnati to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the world of the Good Templars.

——At a meeting of Salisbury street Baptist Sunday school, held last night to reconsider the vote by which they decided to pic-nic at Ridgeway it was changed to Kittrell Springs for next Wednesday.

——Those desiring bargains should not fail to consult our advertising columns this morning. We give you the statement of the bank where the money is kept, and then again we tell you where and who to spend it with.

——Twelve car loads of iron rails for the R. & A. R. R. passed the city yesterday. The road will soon be extended to the Central R. R., where close connections will be made for Charlotte, giving us another through line in the State.

——The 2nd quarterly meeting for 1876 of the Edenton St. M. E. Church commences to-day. Rev. Junius P. Moore, the Presiding Elder officiating. He will also occupy Dr. Burkhead's pulpit to-morrow morning. The quarterly Conference will be held in the church Monday night.

——Yesterday while passing up the street we saw a fine tomato vine in front of Mr. T. H. Briggs & Son's hardware house. It was the tallest we ever saw, measuring about four feet heigh, and had on it 22 tomatoes one of them ripe, and the others turning. It was from the garden of Messrs Pullen and Baker.

——The Board of Directors of the State Penitentiary have been officialy ordered by Judge Watts to appear before him at Chambers in Salisbury on the 5th day of June and show cause why all the prisoners in the Penitentiary except 25, and all kind out on the Spartanburg Road, should not be put to work on the Western division of the W. N. C. R. R.

METHODIST CETTENNIAL PICNIC.

A LARGE TURN OUT.

Over Five Hundred Present—The Happiest One Yet.

Thursday morning promptly at 7 o'clock the scholars, teachers and friends of the Edenton street Methodist Sunday School met at the church to go on the pic nic to Kittrell's. The exercises were opened by singing. Dr. Burkhead, the pastor, made a few remarks to the school and was followed by the Superintendent, Mr. Jeff Young. Dr. Burkhead offered a prayer, then the Chief Marshall, R. W. Best, with the Assistant Marshalls formed the procession, headed by the Citizens Cornet Band they marched from the church down Davidson street, then down Cabarrus street to the depot. The school then entered the cars and promptly at 8 o'clock the long train of nine coaches loaded with over five hundred souls left the depot for Kittrell. The trip was indeed enjoyable and pleasant to every one. On the arrival of the cars at Kittrell's at 10 o'clock, the band played several pieces while the procession formed. They then marched to the springs about a half mile from the depot, which is one of the prettiest spots in North Carolina, covering about 65 acres of beautiful rolling lands, covered with grass and shaded by maples, elms, sycamore and water oak trees. Through the kiudness of Major Blacknall the doors of the hotel were thrown open to the school, which assembled in the large hall. After singing several songs they were addressed by the Rev. Mr. Norment of Person street M. E. Church and Dr. Burkhead, the addresses were short, instructive and interesting to all, both old and young. After the addresses dinner was announced. In the basement of the hotel four long rows of tables extending the full length of the room were loaded with everything that the hearts of the children could desire. Very properly the little ones were admitted first, then the older ones until twelve long tables had been set three times. Their little hearts and bodies being made happy, the immense crowd of beautiful children, fair maidens and beauxs went out for enjoyment, all day long they made the welkin ring with merry laughter and the expressions of innocent and happy hearts. Here and there over the grounds could be seen groups, numbering a half dozen or more, enjoying themselves in various ways. In some of the groups there were but two, and one could readily see that Cupid also was "on a pic-nic." Altogether it was one of the most pleasant days ever participated in by any one, and long to be remembered by the little ones. At 4:30 o'clock they were all called together, formed in a procession and marched to the depot, the band playing all the way. The train moved off at 5 o'clock and by 7 all were safe in the City of Oaks.

The perfect decorum and absence of any manifestation of everything boistrous, ill behaving, or the least objectionable, speaks well for the Edenton Street M. E. Sunday School. There was not a drop of liquor or any thing intoxicating to be seen or heard of on the grounds during the day, and we unhesitatingly say it was the merriest pic-nic we ever attended.

All and each of the teachers and scholars may justly feel proud of being a member of the Edenton Street M. E. Sunday School, and we congratulate them upon their grand success. May they have many such happy days is our wish.

Nonsense.

The city scales are at least half a mile from the business centre of the town. Now here is how it works: A gentleman from the country comes to the city with his load of fodder, oats or hay. The law requires that his load shall be weighed at the city scales before being sold, or rather delivered to the purchaser. The farmer goes to the city lot and one of the street hands loafing around the lot is despatched up town for the weighmaster, who is not always to be found up town; and if the farmer aforesaid sells his load without weighing—although it is perfectly satisfactory to the purchaser—the law, we think, requires him to pay a fine of $7. Now, who should be pleased, the country people or the weigh-master? Why can't the scales be in some more convenient place? And why were the scales moved?

We write this article in the interest of the greatest number, but if we are misinformed as to the facts, and have done injustice to any one, out with it. One thing is certain, the scales are out of the way and makes great trouble.

The Bayonetted Negro Trial.

Corporal O'Dowell and John Carroll, federal soldiers, were up before Justice Magnin yesterday for an assault on the negro Amos Smith, an account of which was given in our paper a few days ago. The evidence was strong against them and the Justice very properly committed them to jail. The negro Amos is very badly injured and we are glad the perpetrators have been brought justice.

CONTINUED PERAMBULATIONS

SALISBURY, N. C.
May 19th '76,

Editor News:—Quietly seated in room No. 9 at the National where mine host, Mr. Schlosa, (formerly of the National of Raleigh) has made it pleasant for me. I jot down a few musings of the two days past. On returning to Greensboro from Winston I found Dr. Benbow of the Benbow House entertaining Tom Thumb and suite. Of course being a small man he created a large crowd and was the centre of attraction but it seemed to me that if peoples pockets were as low in cash as they represent, Tom Thumb would stand a poor chance for a large audience not only in Greensboro, but in Raleigh and everywhere else these dull times. Greensboro has one feature that ought to make us Raleighites blush with shame and that is her graded school. I did not have time to visit the school, but every one I saw was extolling the graded school, and seemed to be as proud of it as though a free gold mine had been found in the center of the city, and every body had access to it, I made this remark to one of Greensboro's favorite lawyers. Yes! he said it is better than the gold mine of Ophir, and one great point was they received more of the "Peabody Fund," but the expenses were paid by direct taxation upon the valued property of the city. It was upon every body's tongue three hundred children going to a free graded school every day. This is another step in the right direction, and when we can say to the people desiring to settle in our good old State that every city, town and county have free graded schools, and State Normal schools to educate our teachers, then our bright star and silver lining will come. A dusty ride last evening brought us to Salisbury. On stepping from the cars, we were buttonholed by Mr. Walt, the gentlemanly Clerk of the National, Of course we had to go with him. When we arrived at the hotel who should help us out of the omnibus but Jack Hammill, Jack says he is doing first rate but wants Weir to send him some money. In looking around town to find some one to drum for the Daily NEWS, I nearly made a failure of it, for almost everybody takes it, and about every person I saw, if they did not take it, read it, I could do but little in the Job work line, for our friend Mr J. J. Bruner of the Watchman has such a hold upon the people that I did not have the heart to take his work away from him. In the Bindery department I did very well.

A GOOD POINT—RAD VOTES WANTED.

At the May court held here Judge Cloud sentenced no negroes for over four months. His reasons were the kind hearted Governor would pardon them right out. Oh no! he was not looking to the election this fall. I wonder how it was at his other courts.

Salisbury is looking very well and judging from the smiling faces of her merchants and business men, I concluded that business must be very satisfactory. I heard several say the experiment of cotton raising was carried further last year than ever before and also tobacco, but that cotton paid best. Please give us more of the cereals and bacon and less cotton and tobacco. I leave here for Statesville in the morning and hope to give a good account of myself there. In the meantime, au revoir. C.

P. S.—I just want to whisper to the route agents on the N. C. R. R., to leave the package of Daily NEWS at Salisbury and not carry it up to Charlotte and bring it back next day. They complain of you right sharp.

Our Fire Brigade.

We witnessed with great pleasure yesterday afternoon the parade of that most efficient auxilliary to our excellent fire department, the Bucket and Ladder Company, No 1, a finer body of men is rarely seen in any community—and the aid they have rendered the city is worthy of more than a passing notice. In the absence of a better supply of water than we now have, these men have, on more than one occasion, arrested in its infancy a great conflagration, and right here we would pay a merited praise to one of the members of this company—we allude to Sam. Joyner. We learn from an eye witness that at the risk of his life, after scaling the roof, he put out with his bucket the recent fire at the old Sheppard house on Hillsboro Street, that saved the destruction of several dwellings. In the same parade we noticed the Victor Fire Company—all good firemen—and always doing good service—always on hand.

Mayor's Court.

The following cases have been disposed of by Mayor Manly since our last report: Richard Landis, colored, trying to make his horse out run his shadow in the street, fined $5 and costs; Donan Jackson, making a foot ball of the partner of his sorrows and joys, fined $5 and costs; Virgil Rix, violating market regulations, $1 and costs; John Haynes, violating City Ordinance, $2.75 and costs; William Haywood, drunk and disorderly, $5 and costs; John Craige, drunk and down, sent to the guard-house.

Go for Norfolk and the Sea.

All the arrangements have been completed for the excursion of the Rescue Steam Fire Company to Norfolk, Old Point and Fortress Monroe. The round trip ticket costs only $5. The company, together with the excursionists, will be quartered at the Atlantic Hotel, one of the finest hotels in the United States at $3 each for the two days. The elegant new side wheel steamer Florida, of the Bay Line, has been engaged for the Bay excursion. This steamer has the capacity for carrying 3,000 people. There will be an elegant car attached especially for the ladies and their escorts. This car will be under the supervision of a special committee of honory members, consisting of Dr. G. W. Blacknall, A. Creech and B. F. Cheatham, Esq.

Now is Your Chance.

Furniture at greatly reduced prices; for the next ten days we will sell all kinds of furniture at greatly reduced prices. Now is your chance to buy bargains as we mean business. A call will satisfy you of the fact. Apply to W. H. Morris & Co., Fayetteville street Raleigh, N. C.

Doctors very often have medical reviews, monthly periodicals, &c., that they wish bound in good style for future reference. John Armstrong, Superintendent NEWS Book Bindery would be happy to gather in all such publications, and bind them in good style at one dollar per volume.

Gen. D. H. Hill.

Messrs Editors:—How would Gen. D. H. Hill do for Superintendent of Public Instruction. It strikes me he would give the ticket more weight than any other man in the State. What say the grangers?

CITIZEN.

For Rent.

A good house with five rooms, and a splendid well of water, on Martin street, near Swain street church, can be rented by applying early to W. E. Weaver at Rand & Wyatt's store.

We call attention with pleasure to the exquisite, tender and well written Sonnet published to-day on Oakwood Cemetery written by a lady of this city.

Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach will have 200 quarts of strawberries to-day at 11 o'clock.

NORTH CAROLINA.

A murder at Macon court. Cherokee Herald: We have been informed that on Monday, of the recent term of Macon court, Mr. Jas. H. Lakey and others while attempting to arrest Henry Watsen and Wm. A. Shepard, in the streets of Franklin, Mr. Lakey was stricken with a rock by Watsen, and stabbed with a knife by Shepard, from the effect of which wound he died the next day. Watsen and Shepard are in jail.

A floral tribute to the dead Fuller. Louisburg Courier: The family of the late Edwin W. Fuller received last Saturday evening from the Memorial Association of Wilmington, N. C., a beautiful floral tribute, which, on Memorial day, was placed on the Memorial Mound in that city in the memory of Mr. Fuller. It was in the shape of a lyre inscribed with the words "In Memoriam" at the top, and Mr. Fuller's name at the lower end. We have not seen it but learn that it was beautiful and very appropriate.

A scholar and his bees. Elizabeth City Carolinian: A swarm of bees—genuine Hybias—have recently taken possession of a quiet corner in the house of our learned and scientific friend, F. S. Proctor, Esq., and are busily at work laying up a golden store of sweetness. This is universally recognized as a sign of good luck, and we regard it as a significant omen, that our friend's colossal theories, which have heretofore been received with less faith than incredulity, are about to be (no pun intended,) sweetened by public acceptance and approbation.

An editor who attended the odd fellows banquet. Salisbury Watchman: On Thursday night the Grand Lodge with invited guests and a band of music, repaired to the National Hotel where a most sumptuous feast had been prepared for them. There were three tables running the entire length of the hall, with seats for the accommodation of two hundred and fifty persons. The room was decorated with flags, banners, wreathes, sweeping festoons and flowers, all artistically arranged and presenting quite a fascinating appearance. The feast was gotten up in elegant style. Wholly in keeping with Col Brown's far spread reputation as a Hotelist.

A Letter From Hon. J. J. Davis.

Editor Sentinel:—DEAR SIR:—I see it stated in the Sentinel of the 12th, on the authority of a correspondent, that I had "signified my purpose not to be a candidate" for Congress. I desire to say that my name will be before the convention, and that the statement of your correspondent results from some mistake or misapprehension. I think it proper that I should make this correction, and by giving it publicity you will oblige me. Respectfully,

JOS. J DAVIS.

SONNET ON OAKWOOD CEMETERY.

How fair this spot asplanted garden lies!
In virgin green, its wave-like mounds appear,
Dedicated fall, delighted rest the eyes.
The cloud-veiled hills in shadowy line, the skies—
In budding sympathy seem almost near.
With influence meet, to chase away the tear,
While springing flowrets tell, we too shall rise.
Sweet is this sacred spot! how sweet the close
Of life's tumultuous surging passions rest,
And we again, as on our Mother's breast,
Love watched and tended, sleep in soft repose.
Here! let God's peace descend, when hearts are riven,
As Inland lake, reflect the calm of Heaven.

S. P. A.

Raleigh, N. C.

Mrs. F. Morrell, Bangor, Me. July 2, 1875, writes: "Six months ago my friends thought me incurable, suffering from Weakness, Disordered Stomach and Fever. The doctors gave me no benefit. I was persuaded to try Coldon's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator; after using three bottles I began to improve, and to-day feel perfectly well." Williams & Haywood, Agents.

Liver and Blood Diseases.

By R. V. Pierce, M. D., Auther of The Peoples common Medical Adviser.

A healthy liver secrets each day about two and a half pounds of bile, which contains a great amount of waste material taken from the blood, and be conveyed to every part of the system. What must be the condition of the blood when it is receiving and retaining each day two and a half pounds poison? Nature tries to work off this poison through other channels and organs—the kidneys, lungs, skin, etc., but these organs become overtaxed in performing this labor in addition to their natural functions, and cannot long withstand the pressure but become variously diseased.

The brain, which is the great electrical center of all vitality, is unduly stimulated by the unhealthy blood which passes to it from the heart and it fails to perform its office healthily. Hence the symptoms of bile poisoning which are dullness headache, incapacity to keep the mind on any subject, impairment of memory, dizzy, sleepy, or nervous feelings, gloomy forebodings, and irretability of temper. The blood itself being diseased, as it forms the sweet upon the surface of the skin, it is so irritating and poisonous that it produces discolored brown spots, pimples, blotches, and other eruptions, sores, boils, carbuncles, and scrofulous tumors. The stomach, bowels, and other organs, cannot escape becoming affected, sooner or later, and we have, as the result, costiveness, biles, dropsy, dyspepsia, diarrhœa. Other symptoms are common, as bitter or bad taste in mouth, internal heat, palpitation, teasing cough, unsteady appetite, choking sensation in throat, bloating of stomach, pain in sides or about shoulders or back, coldness of extremities, etc., etc. Only a few of the above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time. The liver being the great depurating, or blood-cleansing organ of the system, set his great "housekeeper" of our health at work, and the foul corruptions which gender in the blood, and rot out, as it were, the machinery of life, are gradually expelled from the system. For this purpose Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with very small doses of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, is pre-eminently the articles needed. They cure every kind of humor from the worst scrofula to the common pimple, blotch or eruption. Great eating ulcers kindly heal under their mighty curative influence. Virulent blood poisons that lurk in the system are by them robbed of their terrors, and by their persevering and somewhat protracted use the most tainted systems may be completely renovated and built up anew. Enlarged glands, tumors, and swellings, dwindle away and disappear under the influence of these great resolvants.

Shattered Constitutions Rebuilt.

In the use of a wholesome invigorant lies the only hope of rebuilding a shattered constitution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are not only an eminently wholesome tonic, but they rectify with most satisfactory promptitude derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels which are incompatible with a return of health and strength. When the system is enfeebled by disease, by the wear and tear of business life, by continuous mental anxiety, by the exhaustion consequent upon late hours and fast living, by over work and by sedentary habits, the Bitters are the most reliable medicinal agent for imparting permanent vigor to a debilitated frame. The new stock of vitality which they infuse into broken down physique, and the orderly action which they establish among the organs of digestion, secretion and evacuation, moreover, constitute its best safeguard against malarial disease.

Mr. Harris:

I received my pig Thursday. I was highly pleased with him. * * * I was offered $20 for him before I got him home, but said no and drove on.

RALEIGH, 11th May, 18 6.

Dr. Harris:

Your favor of 8th inst., enclosing sample of fleece and pedigree of my beautiful Berkshire pig, "Pompey," was received this forenoon. The pedigree is quite interesting to read, and if you could see Pompey, you would say he justly merits such a pedigree. A more perfect specimen of a thoroughbred pig at his age, I have never seen, and I have seen many noble specimens of swine exhibited at many Fairs in different States. Pompey is faultless in symmetry and development, and as sensitive and kindly disposed as a well-nursed, amiable baby of the same age.

B. F. ARRINGTON.

My pigs are warranted to be of pure blood and good specimens of the breed. Boxed for transportation and delivered on cars. Shipping age 2½ months. I have some nice ones now, which I will sell at reasonable prices. Address

CALL FOR A COUNTY CONVENTION.

As Chairman, I am instructed by the Executive Committee of the Democratic Conservative party of Wake county to give notice that there will be held a Convention of the Democratic-conservative voters of the county at the Court House on the 10th day of June next at 12 m., for the purpose of sending delegates to the State and Congressional District Conventions and to consider the propriety of nominating candidates for public officers. I am further instructed to call upon the chairman of the various township committees to hold meetings in their respective townships on the 27th day of May in order to appoint delegates to this convention. W. W. JONES,
Chairman.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

A Convention of the Democratic-Conservative voters of the Fourth Congressional District will be held in the city of Raleigh on Tuesday the 13th day of June next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress and a Presidential Elector, and selecting two delegates to the St. Louis Convention. A full attendance is earnestly desired. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty given for Merrimon in 1872

By order of the District Executive Committee.

H. A. LONDON, JR.,
Chairman.

March 31st, 1876.

Papers in the District will please copy.

RECONCILIATION Vs. REFORM.

The votes we can depend on are:

Southern States,	124
Hard money States (certainly Democratic):
Delaware,	3
Connecticut,	6
Oregon,	3
New Jersey,	9
	143

It will require 40 more electoral votes to elect. The States from which these additional votes may be obtained are,

Indiana,	15
Wisconsin,	10
Ohio,	22
New York,	35

Of these the three first have a large inflation element. If these be lost, then New York alone remains and we fail by 5 votes to elect our nominee.

It is evident that an inflationist cannot carry the States of Delaware, Connecticut, Oregon and New Jersey, nor New York nor Ohio. Therefore an inflationist cannot be elected. A hard-money man can alone lead us to success. The problem to be solved at St. Louis then is to select a hard-money candidate to whom the Western Inflation Democrats will yield a cordial support.

If such a candidate should fail to carry even two of the inflation States he would still have a good prospect of carrying New York, in which event the ticket would be saved.

Indiana and Wisconsin were at their last election evenly divided, and a refusal by a few hundred soft-money Democrats to vote would give these States to the Republicans.

Ohio gave Hayes 5,500 majority over Allen, and certainly we have no votes to spare there; although, since at the election in 1874 our Democratic Congressman carried the State by 22,000 majority, we may hope with an unobjectionable candidate to regain what Allen's movement lost us, and carry the State by a fair majority.

Now, the three hard-money men who are most prominently mentioned in this connexion are Bayard, Tilden and Thurman.

It is probable that Mr. Bayard may not be deemed the most available candidate. He is, however, more available than Tilden, because we can hardly expect Tilden to carry either of these Western States. And it must not be forgotten that the culmination of the inflation movement was at the last Ohio election. All the Western inflationists felt the deepest solicitude and greatest interest in that campaign. To them it was the field of Waterloo. In that decisive contest it is said that the New York Democrats were on the side of their opponents. The inflationists of the Western States declare their belief that the New York Democrats contributed money to secure their defeat; and it is certainly true that the New York Democracy did rejoice in the complete discomfiture of the Western Democrats on that occasion.

Under these circumstances can we expect a New Yorker to poll a full vote among these discomfited inflationists, who attribute their defeat to the hostile action of the New York Democracy? Is it not altogether probable that a few hundred in Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin may be indifferent to Tilden's election, when Tilden's peculiar friends contributed to defeat them last year?

Tilden, in all probability, must lose us these three great States. It is, however, declared that Tilden and Reform will sweep the country! Let us see. Tilden was elected in 1874 by 50,000 majority. He inaugurated State reforms and proposed to go on with his measures. To do so, a Legislature in harmony with him was indispensably necessary. A Tilden Legislature meant continued reform; an anti-Tilden Legislature meant opposition to Tilden and his reform. The State of New York gave him an opposition Legislature. They refused to sustain Tilden. The State went against him, on the vote in the Senatorial Districts, by 15,500 majority. That is sweeping the North with a vengeance. The people set their seal of condemnation on "Tilden and Reform" to the tune of 15,000 majority against him. Will "Tilden and Reform" do better in New York in 1876 than in 1875? If so, why?

And how has reform taken in other States? The late elections in Connecticut and New Hampshire were held in the midst of the excitement incident to the Belknap disclosures. But the voters in those States gave no countenance to reform. The only effect was to weaken the Democracy and strengthen the Administration party.

Reform has lost us votes on every field where it has been the watchword! It is proved a sad failure. Tilden and Reform is not a success and will not sweep the North. It seems that Tilden cannot carry New York to-day—and certainly he cannot carry the inflation States of the West.

THURMAN is the last of the trio. He has long been a leader of the Western people. Ohio is for him to-day. Although a hard-money Democrat, he joined heartily in the great Ohio campaign and fought valiantly for his political friends. He will lose no Western votes. He will lose no votes in New York. The platform of Reconciliation will sweep the North in 1876 as it did so marvelously in 1874. And Thurman is the exponent of that idea. If nominated, his election is certain. Let the South go for Reconciliation and leave Reform alone.

[COMMUNICATED.]

THE STRANGE TRIAL AND REVENUE OFFICERS.

At a meeting recently held at Asheville by E. R. Hampton, D. A. Bowman and others, resolutions were adopted censuring the ladies of Asheville for their demonstration of excitement when the verdict of acquittal was rendered in the Strange case, and declaring that Judge Watts had not given satisfaction to the people of Western North Carolina in that trial.

"And that in charging that the declarations of the defendant disconnected with the act of killing constituted a part of the res gestæ and must be considered as positive evidence of the innocence of the defendant on his proving a good character is a false legal proposition; and that in so holding the Judge has provoked the just censure of an indignant and outraged people."

"And that in charging that the question of manslaughter could not be considered by the jury, the Judge committed such a gross error as to deserve the just indignation of the whole community."

We have nothing to say about the ladies, or about Judge Watts' not giving satisfaction to the Western people. He was not sworn to do that. His duty was to administer the law, and as to that we have a word to say: On reference to the charge which is annexed, it will be seen that there is no foundation for the allegation that Judge Watts charged the jury that "the declarations of the defendant must be considered positive evidence of the innocence of the defendant upon his proving a good character."

Judge Watts properly repeated in his charge the declarations of the prisoner. He correctly stated that "the evidence in the case partook of two kinds i. e. positive and circumstantial;" in other words, direct and indirect. He also remarked (not however on that immediate connection) that the State's counsel insist that these declarations were untrue, stating the reasons why the prosecution held they were not true; and that the counsel for the prisoner on the other hand, insist they are true, giving the reasons why the counsel urged that they were true, among other reasons "the previous character of the prisoner."

But no where does it appear that the Judge charged any thing in form or substance like or equivalent to what is alleged against him.

The declarations of the prisoner were admitted; these declarations were rendered admissible by the examination in chief of the witnesses by the State, even if they had not been admissible as part of the res gestæ of the homicide. But that they were admissible as part of the res gestæ of the homicide is very clear. They were made almost immediately after the shot—when sufficient time had not elapsed for the defendant to concoct a story. Authority is abundant for the admission of declarations made under such circumstances.

It would be atrocious if such declarations could not be admitted for the consideration of the jury. Suppose the law were otherwise, and that a traveller is attacked by a highwayman who fires and misses him: the traveller then returns the fire while the highwayman is in the act of discharging his pistol the second time—and kills him. Friends of the traveller rush to the scene and arrive there almost instantly, while the highwayman is still on his feet—before he has moved half a dozen paces. And the traveller explains, "he was trying to murder me and I shot him to save my life."

If this be not admissible testimony for the jury, then the traveller has committed a homicide which he has no legal means to justify, and he must be convicted of murder and suffer death!

Such is not the law. The testimony is admissible, and it is for the jury to say whether they will believe it and attach importance to it.

Again, the house of "A" has been robbed of jewelry. The robber secretes some of the jewels in a bundle, and asks permission of B to leave the bundle with him for a few days. Search is made; the bundle is opened and B is found in possession of some the property. He then and there states how he came to have the goods in his possession. Is not this declaration admissible as evidence—which the jury may or may not believe?

These are parallel cases with that tried before Judge Watts. The jury—perhaps the most intelligent and honorable jury that has ever been empanelled in Buncombe county, said on their oath that they believed Strange's declarations to be true, and that he had shot to save his own life. No reason can be suggested why the statement should not be true. If true, how horrible would be the rule of evidence that would consign to the gallows, as a felon and a murderer, an innocent man who was forced to slay an assailant to preserve his life! But rules of evidence are framed to elicit truth, to exclude error, and not to sacrifice innocent men.

From their remarks, it would seem that Gen. Hampton and his followers desired nothing so much as to see an eastern man punished for saving his life from the deadly assault of a western man! They insist that the evidence should be ruled out, and that Strange should be hanged, because he did not submit to be slaughtered by a western man.

As for the manslaughter resolution, the Judge did charge that "this was a case of murder or of self-defence;"—in effect, that from the testimony there was no element of manslaughter in the case. To this we yield our hearty assent. It would have been an error in the judge to have charged differently. If Strange's declarations were not believed, it was murder: if believed, it was self-defence. Where was the element of manslaughter? A man slays another: there is no evidence as to the circumstances; this is certainly murder. But if the evidence be that the slaying was in self-defence, as it was in Strange's case, where is the manslaughter? If the jury disbelieved the evidence that the slaying was in self-defence, then they could not do otherwise than find the defendant guilty of murder. Manslaughter as Judge Watts correctly held in his charge, is where two men fight in a sudden heat of passion on equal terms and one be slain; or as Foster says, manslaughter is "where a person hath been kindled on each side and blows have passed and the combat hath continued on both sides to the time the mortal stroke was given, or that the party giving such stroke was not at that time in imminent danger of death. So that to manslaughter is incident a fighting—an encounter, a killing in the heat of passion arising in the fight. Without this ingredient there could be no manslaughter in this case. And there was no such evidence; the jury could not infer a fighting and a sudden heat of passion growing out of a fight, where there was no evidence of anything of the kind;—where in fact there was no time according to the evidence for any fighting whatsoever. Strange either slew the deceased without legal provocation, or the deceased by attacking Strange, as was the evidence, forced Strange to shoot in self-defence.

The jury believed the latter.

The animus of the leaders in this meeting is well illustrated by this particular resolution.

Clearly Judge Watts was right, and yet they denounce him for not charging the jury either that a murderer might be convicted of manslaughter, or that one who takes life in self-defence might be convicted of manslaughter. They say, the Judge for stating the law as it really is, deserves the just indignation of the whole people! Their purpose was not to direct attention to a incorrect statement of criminal law, but to make political capital for the republican party. Their object was to arouse the western whites against the eastern whites!! Western democrats against eastern democrats; nothing more. This key note is well expressed by Mr. Pinkney Rollins in his editorial. "Ah! poor people of the mountains of Western North Carolina—have we any right to complain of such proceedings—such utter disregard of our rights—even of our lives, if we wear jeans and drive a wagon?" Such an attack upon a Court to make political capital because the prisoner happens to be an eastern white man and the deceased, a western man, could only have been planned and carried into effect by such persons as engaged in this undertaking. Revenue officers and Gen. Hampton, and Pinkney Rollins were alone equal to such an unscrupulous political manœuvre.

Judge Watts' charge speaks for itself. We do not commend it in all its parts, but the statement of the law contained in it, is unassailable, except by revenue officers—Gen. Hampton, Pinkney Rollins and others of that ilk.

And they would assail anybody or anything to arouse western prejudice against eastern white men—and make a little political capital for themselves and party. X. Y.

[From the Asheville Citizen.

JUDGE WATT'S CHARGE.

Gentlemen of the Jury:—The solemnities of this occasion, the incidents of this trial, the intense interest manifested throughout its protracted investigation by the large and respectable audiences that have been in attendance from day to day from all parts of the State, impresses us with the magnitude and importance of the undertaking in which we are engaged. The respectability and character of the parties here represented, the parents of the deceased and of the accused, with whom as fathers and mothers no time can erase from their remembrance the sad, unfortunate and unhappy results of that difficulty—the one bereaved by the loss of a son, the other bowed down by sorrow, presents his favorite son to the majesty of the law, and awaits with mental anguish and breathless, hopeful silence the mighty issue.

The learned counsel, both for the State and the prisoner at the bar, deeply impressed with the responsibilities resting upon them and keenly to elicit every fact and circumstance concerning the sad tragedy, have assisted us vastly in drawing the scenes of that eventful day. Thomas W. Strange the prisoner at the bar, stands indicted for murder, in that he killed James A. Murray, of the county of Haywood. That said Murray is dead, and that he came to his death by the hands of the prisoner is admitted by the prisoner himself. Murder is the killing of any human being of any age or sex, with malice aforethought or malice prepence. Malice is an unlawful, wilful formed design to do the person of another an injury. Malice is of two kinds, express and implied; express malice is evidenced as by grudges and threats against and by lying in wait for the victim; malice is implied, when an act is done in a cruel and unusual manner. If two men fight on a sudden heat of passion, and upon equal terms, and one be slain, the slayer would be guilty of manslaughter only. Previous malice, or acts of great cruelty and barbarity, must be shown to constitute a case of murder. This case is one of murder or nothing. The fact of the killing being shown or admitted, as in this case, it devolves upon the prisoner to show justification or excuse. He pleads not guilty to the charge as set forth in the bill of indictment, and sets up and relies upon the plea of justification, "that of self-defense." At one period of the world's history, in the earlier part of the Mosaic dispensation, no excuse could be received for taking the life of another; it was an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and blood for blood. This was the law and continued for many centuries, even after Moses himself had slain an Egyptian and hid him in the sand—until a new civilization broke in upon the Israelites, long after they had been driven out of Egypt by Pharaoh, and when Joshua was appointed and anointed by the Lord to succeed Moses, on the confines and in full view of the promised land which should be to them and their posterity an inheritance forever. We in the 35th chapter of Numbers, commencing at the 9th verse and continuing to and including the 15th, that the Lord commanded Moses to appoint and establish six cities, three on this side of Jordan and three in the land of Canaan, "which shall be Cities of Refuge." These six cities shall be a refuge, both for the children of Israel, and for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them; That every one that killed any person unawares may flee thither. From this scripture our law has been copied, and from which, under this new dispensation and progressive civilization from the ancient Israelites, we get the law of excusable and justifiable homicide, and the law of self-defense being the first law of nature, in a perfect sea, and full defense to the charge of murder, if made satisfactory to the mind and conscience of the jury.

There are two modes of proof or two lines of testimony known to our law: one is what we call positive proof, and the other, presumptive or circumstantial. Positive proof is where a credible eye witness swears directly to a fact, that he saw A. or B do so and so. Circumstantial is where a person swears to a state of circumstances that lead the mind to the irresistable and irrefragible conclusion that the subject matter to which they point, can be no other than unerringly true. But every fact, not one or two or three, but all the facts which constitute links in the chain of circumstances, must be linked together with an indissoluble band and form a chain, and this chain must hook on to and point as unerringly at the party charged, as strongly and as convincingly to the minds of the jury, as though a credible eye-witness was on the stand swearing positively to the fact that he saw him do the deed; and the mind of the jury cannot and must not jump over or supply any gap or link in the chain not forged in by the crucible of truth and hammered into shape and locked into the chain. One link wanting in this chain of circumstances severs and destroys the whole. The State must show, (not the prisoner) the theory of the prisoner's guilt so clearly as to exclude all other reasonable theories of his innocence; for the law itself makes the presumption of innocence so strongly in behalf of a party on trial for his life that it is incumbent upon the State and prosecution to show to the satisfaction of the jury, beyond a reasonable doubt, that there is no reasonable theory or presumption of his innocence.

The scenes up to and after the homicide have been pictured to the mind by the witnesses from the time in mid-summer of last year, when the prisoner (with his comrades) living in the city by the sea, of life and hope and joyous anticipation start out from their eastern home as miniature tourists, to explore and ruralize among the rocky cliff, mountain gorges pearly streams and beautiful valleys of their own State, your "Switzerland." Western Carolina, to the time of their arrival at the place in the winding pathway, among, around and beneath the towering mountains, where the fatal shot was fired.

But no mortal eye (save the deceased and the prisoner) saw the pistol fire, or the position of the parties. What occurred between them, or the immediate cause of the difficulty, is unknown to us. So we have but one living witness on earth that knows the true history, and that is the prisoner. His declarations made upon the spot, in the presence of the dying man, in a few moments after the report of the pistol, in response to the question by his friend, "Tommie what have you done?" exclaimed, "I shot him; here I am gentlemen; I shot him in self-defense; I went up there to have a friendly talk and try and get him to take back his offensive words; he became angry, and came at me with a knife and I had to shoot him." He asked if nothing could be done for the dying man, gave himself up to grief, fell upon the ground weeping and exclaimed, "Oh, my poor father! this will kill him! I have tried hard to be a christian!" and humbled himself in the dust. This statement of his, if it be true is the end of this case, for I charge you, that a man when driven to the wall, when there is a great probability of losing his own life, has a right to save it, even though he take the life of his adversary; and this is the rule of law, whatever might have been the immediate or previous cause of the difficulty.

The evidence in this case partakes of two kinds, positive and circumstantial: the positive is the admission of the prisoner, that is, such as "I shot him," and his reasons therefor; the circumstantial is the acts of the prisoner and the acts of the deceased, detailed by the witnesses together with the surroundings, such as time, place, &c. Now, gentlemen, if you take the circumstances alone, without the admissions of the prisoner, you could not convict, for the most important link in the chain would be wanting, the killing itself. You might reasonably infer that the prisoner did it, but you cannot convict even on a reasonable inference. If you take the circumstances and a part of the admissions, such as "I killed him," and take the same circumstances and all his admissions and you have two distinct theories or presumptions, one looking to the guilt and the other to the innocence of the prisoner. I charge you, the law commands that you shall take the one looking to innocence; and this is the reason of the maxim that it is better for ninety and nine guilty persons to escape than one innocent man should suffer.

The State's counsel insists that his statement it is true, that the motive to make it was to save his own life, the most powerful and pungent of all motives. His counsel for the prisoner insists that it is true, and relies upon the surrounding circumstances, acts and conduct of the prisoner, then and there portrayed and enacted, together with his previous character from his cradle to the present, proven by the Right Rev. Bishop Atkinson Dr. Watson, Rev. Mr. Jones, Mr. Steadman, Major Lynch; Dr. Durham, Mayor Carmady, Col. Fremont, R. R. Bridgers, Mr. Martin and Dr Thomas—men distinguished in different professions of law medicine, mechanics, education, and theology; his family physician, his tutors, his comrades, and various gentlemen; his minister, and his aged Bishop—these men of God, have testified as to his truthfulness and moral rectitude.

My duty and my responsibility here end; yours now begin. Discharge your duty, as I know you will, under the solemn oaths you have taken; discharge it conscientiously, discharge it in full view of the after life and as if in the presence of our God, so that when this world shall be to us no more, when you and I, the prisoner, Thomas W. Strange, and the deceased, and these two fathers, and this cloud of witnesses, shall meet in the spirit land, we may feel and know of a truth "thou did'st well."

May God bless you, gentlemen, and direct you to make a true deliverance.

REGULATOR

PURELY VEGETABLE,

Is harmless,
Is no drastic violent medicine,
Is sure to cure if taken regularly,
Is no intoxicating beverage,
Is a families family medicine,
Is the cheapest medicine in the world,
Is given with safety and the happiest results to the most delicate infant,
Does not interfere with business,
Does not disarrange the system,
Takes the place of Quinine and Bitters of every kind,
Contains the simplest and best remedies.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, Bilious sufferers, victims of Fever and Ague, the mercurial disease patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite—they will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator.

THE CHEAPEST, PUREST AND BEST FAMILY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD!

It contains four medical elements, never united in the same happy proportion in any other preparation, viz: a gentle Cathartic, a wonderful Tonic, an unexceptionable Alterative and certain Corrective of all impurities of the body. Such signal success has attended its use, that is now regarded as the

EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC

For all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.

As a Remedy in

NOON DISPATCHES.

The English Refuse to Adhere.

LONDON, May 19.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Berlin says it is believed there that the English have refused or will refuse to adhere to the memorandum of the three powers, Russia, Germany and Austria. It is understood that five powers will address a note to Turkey in regard to the settlement of its affairs and the official Gazette of yesterday says nothing is known in official quarters of the rumored assassination of the Germans in Turkey, and moreover direct telegrams from Herr Gillett the German Consul at Pera dated "Salonica May 16th," and the latest telegrams from the German Embassy at Constantinople do not mention the alleged assassinations either of Khulmann the director of the Ronelmian Railways which was reported or of the other German Railway officials or other German citizeds living in Turkey.

A Great To-Do Over the Prince of Wales—All London in a Flutter.

LONDON, May 19.—To-day having been fixed upon by the Prince of Wales to visit London after his return from India most elaborate preparations have been made for his entertainment. The Stock Exchange is closed and a banquet and ball takes place this evening. Five hundred guests will be at the banquet and five thousand at the ball. Guildham where the ball takes place is magnificently decorated. Nearly all the Princes and Princesses of the Royal family will be present- Mr. Disraeli and other ministers of the Government and all the great officers of State will be present.

Mr. Douglas Now Hears It Thunder.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A World special says the committee on expenditures of the Treasury Department subpoened ex-Commissioner of Internal Revenue Douglas to-day to exculpate himself of some queer charges made against him. It is alleged that Douglas had a son in College in Pennsylvania who drew a salary of $2,500 per annum from the government while he was in school.

Kansas For Hendricks.

TOPEKA, KANSAS, May 19.—The democratic convention met to-day. Amos Haynes was elected President. The platform states no banks should issue and the government and State authorities should supply the proper currency. The country needed the immediate repeal of resumption. The delegates were instructed to vote for Hendricks.

Secretary Robeson to Appear Before the House.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A World special says that Secretary Robeson has been notified he may appear before the House Committee and make such answer as he can to the arraignment of his administration of the Navy Department by evidence which has thus far been taken.

Delaware For Blaine.

DOVER, DEL., May 19.—The republican convention adopted resolutions to regard Blaine as the exponent of their principles and that the federal office holders should not be delegates to the nominating convention.

The Mississippi Log Cabin at the Centennial.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19th.—The Mississippi log cabin was opened in the centennial grounds to-day. There are sixty-eight different kinds of wood in the structure.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Report on Schenck Completed—Acquits Him of Intentional Fraud But Salts Him Down on Emma Mine—Supreme District Court—Earl Derby's Note in Cabinet—The Mississippi Troubles—Marshal Campbell Won't Sour on Miss Sweete—Mr. Harrison and Adjournment—Singleton and Garfield.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The report on Schenck is completed. It acquits him of intentional fraud, but censures him severely for utter impropriety in his whole connection with the Emma Mine, and his entire lack of appreciation of the proprieties of his office.

In the Supreme District Court the case of Collins vs. the Florida was dismissed. The Florida was captured in a neutral port in violation of the laws of nations and suit was brought to libel her as a prize of war.

A full Cabinet considered Derby's note, which contained nothing to justify this Government in changing its position on the question. Mr. Fish will answer re-affirming the positions of his late note. This will close the correspondence and when Winslow is released the President will certify the facts to the Senate.

A dispatch from Augur to the Secretary of War was read that the disturbances were ended and were mostly in Mississippi, and not Louisiana. An assurance of Pierrepont's to Gov. Kellogg that the government would render the State officials upon requisition of the Governor such aid in case of riot and bloodshed as is provided in the Constitution was considered as covering this case entirely.

The United States Marshal Campbell of Chicago testified that he knew nothing of a bargain between Blakley and Miss Sweet by which money was paid. The witness said had he known it he would not have been a party to it. He narrates how it was a legitimate business transaction and his hand had no part in attempting Miss Sweet's removal.

In the House, Harrison on the committee of Ways and Means offered a resolution that Congress adjourn 12th June. It was referred.

A bill removing the disabilities of Wm. Maury of New York; passed.

The committee on Expenditures of the Department of Justice have permission to go to New York and Brooklyn.

A motion to restore to record the sharp passage between Singleton and Garfield; was tabled.

The Naval appropriations bill was resumed and a night session was ordered. Adjourned.

Half Fare Tickets to the Conventions.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Half fare round trip tickets will be sold to the Republican and Democratic National Conventions by the Erie Railroad.

The Methodists—The Ministers and Liquor Sellers—The Church South—Dr. Cummins.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—Bishop Foster presided. A resolution was offered to amend the discipline to expel ministers who rent houses for the sale of intoxicating liquors. The committee on communication from the Church South presented a resolution that in order to remove all obstacles to a formal fraternity two Churches and a Board of Bishops be instructed to appoint a committee of three ministers and two laymen to meet a similar committe appointed by the M. E. Church South and digest all the difficulties. Dr. Cummins said all he was he owed to Methodism and proceeded to give his reason for the organization of a Reformed Episcopal Church. The order for transferring the Pittsburg Christian Advocate to the New York Book Concern was revoked.

Increasing Demand for Cotton—Limited Demand for Sea Island Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, May 19.—The Circular Broker's association containing a review of the week endiug yesterday says that cotton has been in increased demand, but the supply is abundant and prices in description still favor the buyers for American. There has been more inquiry, but prices of all quantities remain unchanged. The Sea Island cotton was in limited demand. Most of other cottons was 1 1-16 to ⅛ cheaper in futures. Transactions have been limited and fluctuations slight and the prices are about 1 1-16 lower.

The Presbyterians at Savannah.

SAVANNAH, May 19.—The second day's session of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church opened at 9 o'clock to-day. The report of Dr. Stewart Robinson of Louisville, Ky., a delegate to the conference held in London July 21st 1875 to frame a constitution for a general Presbyterian Council was read and a discussion of the same was deferred until the opening hour to-morrow with promise of a lively debate on account of a diversity of views. Rev. J. J. Price of Vicksburg preached an interesting sermon. A large congregation was present to-night.

Senator Booth Goes Back on His Nomination.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senator Booth is quoted to say he does not intend to pay any attention to his Indianapolis nomination for Vice President. There are only two points of accord between his financial views and those of the convention namely; the substitution of legal tenders for mail bank notes and that the easiest way to bring them up to a good standard is through interchangable bonds.

Money Tight in Buenos Ayres.

LONDON, May 19.—A private telegram received here from Buenos Ayres yesterday announced that the National Bank of Buenos Ayres has suspended specie payment and numerous failures including that of a private bank have occurred. Argentine bonds have fallen heavy in consequence.

The Presbyterians in Conference.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Presbyterian Conference elected Rev. Dr. Vandye Moderator. A committee of seven ministers and six elders was appointed to convey to the centennial managers resolutions approving the closing of the exhibition on Sundays.

Bowen Turned Out With the Truth in His Mouth.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Bowen was expelled to-day from Plymouth Church. He tells reporters that the last of the scandal has not yet been heard.

Matamoras.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A private telegram was read to the Cabinet to-day which states that Matamoras had been turned over to the American and German Consuls.

THE OLD NORTH STATE

Vegetable Stomach Bitters,

PREPARED BY

C. G. LANIER

Hickory, N. C.

In offering to the public for their use an relief the

Old North State Vegetable Stomach Bitters,

I feel no hesitancy in saying this is the purest and best article ever offered them.

I warrant each bottle to contain NO chemical whatever—nothing but the best vegetable preparation, (see recommendation of physicians,) and the purest Domestic Whiskey.

In preparing this excellent tonic I have spared no pains or cost to make it just what I recommend it to be—

The Very Best Tonic ever offered to Invalids and others, and without the usual cry of "Encourage Home Enterprise," I would say to all the suffering—Throw away the filthy and worthless drugs sold you heretofore by would be "all cures," and try one bottle of

The Old North State Bitters,

and if then you will say you have not been benefitted by its use, I will return to all such their money.

OLD NORTH STATE BITTERS

cures all the diseases of the Blood, Gravel, Gout, Incipient Dropsy, Rheumatism, Colic, Pain, of the Stomach and Bowels, and is peculiarly efficacious in all ordinary cases of Obstruction in the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs.

Relieves Dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, General Debility, Sluggish Circulation of Blood, Indigestion, want of Assimilation of Food and Exhausted Vital Energy!
